

MIND FOR MEMORY (M4M)

Problem: There is no way to identify the contents in memory cards. The tiny label is of little use.

Solution: My invention is the Mind for Memory, M4M for short.

It is a binder with a case for memory cards encased on the left similar to an existing product below BUT the M4M will be 8.5 x 11" in size and have pages that one can document the contents of the cards. There will also be labels that can be added to the cards that correspond to the page numbers.

This can be used for all types of memory cards and memory sticks. Zippered pouches will be included to contain other forms of memory media.
